

Brent Wickham

Why are you interested in becoming a board member?

I am interested in contributing to the protection and development of Laramie County. Having lived in the county for most of my life, I have seen significant growth and change, and believe a balanced approach is essential to meet the needs of our community, environment, and wildlife.

Working in water governance, I have an understanding of the critical balance between using and conserving our natural resources. I want to leverage this background to help with public education, community involvement, guidance, and environmental protection across the county.

Why are you interested in Conservation?

Decision-making requires a clear understanding of natural resources, wildlife, and the environment. Conservation is not only about limiting the use of these resources, but rather protecting habitats, ensuring wise resource management, and thoughtfully guiding community growth and needs.

I aim to leverage expertise, community engagement, and scientific research to help guide the district toward meeting its goals and mission.

Something that you would like your voters to know!

I want to express my interest in helping guide and shape conservation efforts for the benefit of our community, environment and habitat. Professionally my career is technology, working in water governance for most of it. As an outdoor enthusiast, I am dedicated to maintaining a healthy environment and habitat while supporting sustainable growth in the county.

I welcome the opportunity to connect and discuss how the Conservation District can benefit you and the community.
